

Andrew Conders is an Assistant Regional Director for Regulation for the Fort Worth office of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. He was promoted to that position in 2016 after spending five years as the Assistant Regional Director – Operations for the office. He previously served for three years as a Branch Chief/Exam Manager for Investment Adviser and Investment Company examinations. He started his career with the SEC as an Examiner in 2001. Before joining the Commission, he worked for 17 years as the CFO of a private company in Fort Worth.

Mr. Conders, a native of Fort Worth, holds an undergraduate degree in business from the University of Texas at Austin, an MBA from the University of Texas at Arlington, and an MPA from the University of Texas at Arlington. He is a Certified Public Accountant.

Mr. Conders is proud of his family's long-standing relationship with UTA – both of his parents graduated from what was then Arlington State College, and his wife received her undergraduate degree from UTA, as well.
