

Mr. Miller is an attorney in private practice with a specialty in general corporate law and commercial transactions. He previously also served as senior in-house counsel for local area major companies. Mr. Miller teaches several business law-related classes in the College of Business at UTA. He is a graduate of Emory University School of Law in Atlanta.