

COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS

In the College of Liberal Arts (CoLA) at The University of Texas at Arlington, students receive an education centered on the cultivation of oral, written, and analytic skills. CoLA is one of UTA's most diverse academic units, with 12 departments in the arts, humanities, and social sciences. Regardless of discipline, its world-renowned faculty prepares students to explore and elevate the human condition. The quality of this programming has been recognized nationally, with accreditations from the National Association of Schools of Art and Design and the National Association of Schools of Music.

Ever-responsive to student interest and community need, CoLA continues to evolve by expanding its academic offerings. Students have opportunities to pursue degrees, credentials, and certificates in traditional disciplines such as art, political science, and history, along with newer offerings in applied sociology, popular culture, music industry studies, philanthropy, pre-law, disability studies, forensic science, translation, and interpretation.

Prestigious faculty awards for research and creative activity include a Guggenheim Fellowship, National Center for the Humanities Fellowships, an Andrew Carnegie Fellow, a Woodrow Wilson Fellow, a Pulitzer Prize, and multiple awards from the Fulbright Foundation. In addition, faculty have received Academy of Distinguished Teachers awards, UT System Regents' Outstanding Teaching Awards, and multiple Emmy Award and Academy Award nominations.
